THE CITY OF THE STRAITS.

A Resume of Her Commerce and Manufactures for 1881.

The following is a digest from the Evening News of an elaborate article in the Detroit Free Press showing the business operations of the city of Detroit during the past year: The growth of the trade was clearly in excess of that of any previous year. As compared with 1880 the trade in general merchandise has increased from 10 to 15 per cent. Manufacturing interests have been augmented fully 20 per cent. Many new and promising enterprises have been undertaken. Altogether the year has been a remarkable one, in a business way, for the City of the Straits.

BANKING.
During the year one new banking establishment, with a capital of $200,000 was established. The average rate of interest on accommodations has been from 6 to 8 per cent. An abundance of currency has generally existed.

FLOUR AND GRAIN.

The amount of grain actually handled in this city was not so great as heretofore. Nevertheless, the need of further elevator facilities is continually apparent. On change the year has been an active one, many new members having been enrolled. There has been a falling off in the commission trade in flour, on account of purchasers generally going to first hands for supplies. Milling operations have not been as heavy as formerly, on account of the destruction of the extensive Union mills by explosion, and the conversion of the Central mills into the glucose works. About 140,000 barrels of flour were manufactured during the year. The total amount of flour by rail were 336,085 barrels, 351,965. LATIVE BUSINESS.
Transactions in wheat, 2,000 bushels, of which 1,000 were sold by option sales, and 1,000 by spot sales. Two transactions in the trade, with liabilities totaling $140,000. The wheat of the state to the extent of 9,000 bushels, nearly the whole amount, was accounted for by the amount used in milling, in home consumption by the families of producers, and the amount shipped to Detroit and Toledo, and eastward via Grand Trunk and Canada Southern.

COARSE GRAINS.
The trade in corn and oats has been the largest since 1877, but has been greatly hampered by the inadequacy of elevator facilities in this city. There has also been an increase in transactions in barley.

GENERAL PRODUCE.
A large increase is noted in the commission trade, although the apples, potato and small fruit crops, were very light.

GENERAL MERCHANDISE.
The average increase in the sales of clothing, boots and shoes, dry goods, drugs, hardware, groceries, and branches of trade related thereto, is placed at 12 1/2 per cent. In the lumber trade the increase has been much more marked, having been 33 1/3 per cent. in shipments and 25 per cent. in home consumption.

MANUFACTURES.

The manufacturing interests of the city show a most gratifying enlargement, 43 new establishments with a capital of $2,900,000, and employing 3,800 persons, having been started during the year. The capital invested in manufactures is placed at $19,000,000, distributed among 900 establishments, and employing 24,070 persons. The largest increase during the year have been in various branches of manufactures of iron.

LIVE STOCK AND PROVISIONS.
The wants of the city in respect to market supplies of this kind appear to have met more adequately than heretofore, an improvement in the quality of live stock being noted. The receipts of hogs and preparation of hog products have fallen off during the year, however, and the exports have in consequence been less in quantity.

RAILROAD AND MARINE INTERESTS.

Want of terminal facilities has prevented the immediate realization of the anticipations found in regard to the completion of the Wabash connection to this city. The completion of direct railroad communication with the northern peninsula is one of the most important connections of the kind established in years. The railroad interests of the city are now of as much importance as the marine interests which brought the city into existence and supported it for many years.

The shipyards are crowded with work, and fifteen new vessels, with an aggregate tonnage of 11,443 tons, were placed in commission during the year, a number of them being the largest and most seaworthy afloat on the lakes.

Escaped and Recaptured.

Thursday evening of last week Deputy Sheriff Kintz took Chas. Rhinehart, one of his regular boarders, out to give him a little exercise in the way of carrying wood into the jail. Rhinehart took advantage of the darkness to make an effort for liberty and started to run at a lively rate and soon disappeared in the darkness. Deputy Kintz telegraphed to Sheriff Sherburne, of Presque Isle county to look out for the escaped prisoner and this week received a telegram stating that the man was at the Life Saving station, with his feet frozen. Thursday Justice Fife was made a special deputy and went after him and arrived with his man in charge yesterday forenoon. It seems the man arrived at the station Monday in an almost famished condition reporting that he was a land locker. Not having the usual equipments for that business with him, they took him to be a suspicious character, and sent word to Sheriff Sherburne, who notified Deputy Kintz. The man says he had only eaten one meal from the time he left here until he arrived at the station. Both of his feet are badly frozen, one so badly that it is feared that he will lose it. He was confined in jail on a charge of grand larceny, having broken into a house near Burt lake in October, and had been ever since.

The Railroad.

Passenger trains have been running regularly this week, and passenger business has been brisk, considering this as a railroad town is yet in its infancy. The office here only received a short supply of local tickets, the sales being confined to the main line, and yet the average daily sales has exceeded $100, and this notwithstanding the fact that for many points on the line, there were no tickets for sale. This we think is a pretty good showing for Cheboygan.

The following are the prices of tickets to some of the principal points: Detroit, $8 25; Bay City, $5; Bay City and return, $8 75; Saginaw, $5 40; Jackson, $8 45; Lansing, $7 35; Owosso, $6 55; Chicago $13 60. The company is now prepared to receive and forward freight. Shippers by applying to the agent here will be supplied with blank shipping receipts, and be given all necessary information. Freight trains arrive and depart daily, and from this time the patrons of the line may expect their goods to come forward promptly.

A Change in Telegraph Rates.

A new tariff of rates for the Western Union telegraph company went into effect last Sunday. The change increases the rates for night messages considerably. Instead of being half the day rates, as heretofore, night messages will be charged as follows:

Messages which are charged 25, 30, and 35 cents during the day for the first ten words and 2 cents for each additional word, will be charged for at the rate of 25 cents for the first ten words at night, and 1 cent for each additional word. Messages rating at 40, 45, and 50 cents for ten words and 3 cents for each word over during day, will be charged 30 cents at night and 2 cents for every word over the first ten. Where the rate is 55, 60, and 65 cents and 4 cents for each additional word in the day time, the rate will be 40 cents at night and 3 cents for each additional word. When it is from 70 to 80 cents and 5 cents additional in daytime, the night rate is 50 cents and 3 cents. When the day rate is from 85 to 95 cents and 6 cents for each additional word, the night rate is 60 cents and 4 cents for each additional word. Where the rate runs from $1 to $1.10 during the day and 7 cents for each additional word, the night rate is 70 cents and 5 cents. When it is from $1.15 to $1.25 for each ten words sent during the day, and 8 cents for each word over, the night rate is 80 and 5 cents. When it is from $1.30 to $1.40 in day time and nine cents for each word over, the night rate is 90 and 6 cents.

Thanks.

We desire hereby to express our thanks to our friends who so kindly remembered us with substantial tokens of friendship in presenting many valuable and acceptable presents. Among which we desire especially to mention the complete surprise on Christmas Eve of a substantial and elegantly upholstered easy chair, from "many friends" and a splendid study gown from Mrs. Summers and her daughter, Cassie. Also for Mrs. Campbell a beautiful quadruple silver plated pickle dish of rich design, from her Bible class.

W. M. CAMPBELL.

The exports for the year ending November 30, 1881, exceeded the imports $195,123,212. The imports of gold and silver exceeded the exports $62,983,039. The figures in both cases are considerably in excess of those of 1880.

STATE NEWS.

Muskegon, the past year shipped 600,000,000 feet of lumber.

Congressman Lacy has introduced a bill into the House for a federal building in Lansing to cost $75,000.

The Courier says a lady in East Saginaw gave birth last Saturday to a child having four distinct arms. Otherwise the child is perfectly formed.

The contract for printing 20,000 copies of "Michigan in the War" was let to W. S. George & Co., Lansing, at 98 cents per volume.

There was a large gathering of Michigan officials and eminent citizens in Lansing last week at the funeral of the late W. S. George.

The water works in East Saginaw pumped 790,698,950 gallons of water last year. The works in Bay City pumped 944,382,043 gallons.

The Muskegon boom company, during the season of 1881, rafted 532,555,155 feet of logs; now in store in booms, 7,258,000; beached, 20,281,775; total, 560,095,120.

Ex-Governor Felch has been invited by law students of the University to deliver an address on Jan. 18, Daniel Webster's birthday. Mr. Felch was a member of the U. S. senate at the same time Mr. Webster was.

Christmas found Marquette without a bit of snow, and not even the thinnest covering of ice on Lake Superior. It was so warm in that region that ice did not even form on water left standing out of doors.

Thursday night of last week during the northeast gale, the sea broke over the breakwater at Sand Beach its whole length, destroyed the light house yawl, and moved an anchor, on top of the breakwater, weighing a ton and a half, several feet.

Bay City built 517 buildings at a cost of $872,600 during the year 1881; also 18,751 feet of sewers, costing $25,195; and 25 miles of sidewalk, costing $32,500. Over this record, as compared with that of East Saginaw, the Bay City papers are rejoicing greatly.

The Rev. John Hisecock, of Jonesville, aged 78, Monday, while leading a cow, tied the rope around his waist. The cow ran over the frozen ground, killing him.

Samuel Bickley aged 109, father of Prof. Samuel Bickley, Jr., died in Flint, Wednesday. He was a native of England, but came to this country in 1836, and became a pioneer of Genesee county.

The supervisor, two justices of the peace, health officer and township clerk, in a joint statement over their several signatures state that the story told by Indian Agent Lee about small pox in Leelanaw township, Leelanaw county, was chiefly false "or the truths garbled as to be utterly unjust to the people who have had to act promptly in the face of a dreadful scourge coming upon them."

The Saginaw Herald says that the Thomas Nester pine lands, in Gladwin, Clare and Rosecommon counties, have been sold to Wells, Stone & Co., of Saginaw City, $510,000, of which $248,000 is paid down. The sale includes Mr. Nester's fine farm, lumbering outfit, unmarked logs in the woods and about, 12 miles of railroad, with cars, engines, etc. Mr. Nester will not go out of the lumber business, but will transfer his active operations to the upper peninsula.

Detroit Evening News says "A new Michigan land company has been organized in that city by Francis Palms, James McMillan John S. Newberry, Hugh McMillan, George Hendrie, William B. Moran, Frederick Driggs, of Detroit, and Gen. I. Seney, of New York, who each contribute $60,000, making the capital stock of the company $400,000, all paid in. The company was organized under the title of the "Peninsular land company, limited," and will speculate in lands in the upper peninsula. The annual meetings of the company will be held in October, and no dividends are to be paid while there are any outstanding debts. A schedule of the lands which go to make up the capital stock was annexed to the articles of partnership, and made such a voluminous document that the fee for recording the same in the register's office was $25.
